

Risk Management Webinar

ProtectUK publication date

19/09/2024

The following video is a webinar which was recently presented to CTBIE members by NaCTSO's Research and Product Development Team. The webinar aimed to provide a snapshot of what the risk management guidance entails and how to use the accompanying templates and supporting resources.

We have made this recording available here as we think everyone will find it useful whether they are new to risk management, or already have their own process established.
