ProtectUK

Good housekeeping checklist

Good housekeeping is important as it can improve the safety of your premises, reduce the opportunity for placing suspicious items, and can help you manage false alarms and hoaxes.

Items left unsecured on site, such as flammable liquids, could be used by terrorists and criminals. It's therefore important that they are safely secured whenever they are not in use.

Use this checklist to ensure good housekeeping is maintained within your site.

Good housekeeping checklist.pdf (97.51 KB)

KEYWORDS

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING
SUSPICIOUS ITEM
SEARCH PLANNING
RISK MANAGEMENT
PUBLICLY ACCESSIBLE PLACES

PAGE CATEGORY

RISK